Software Development Business + Developer Option

Business for Sale Description

Software Development Business for Sale Auckland

A suite of cloud-based, Autodesk and standalone desktop software products with early stage revenue streams is available for sale, with an option for the proprietor/developer to go with the business.

These products would be a suitable purchase for a cloud-based provider with existing channels to market. The suite of products available would provide the purchaser with the opportunity to enhance its own offering with fully developed licensing, text-to-speech and online learning and certification systems. Several other Autodesk Add-in applications are included in this package comprising a batch file upgrader, warning navigator, a clash report generator, a pipe network importer and a watermark tool. An Autodesk advanced Revit project change management tool has also been developed along with a number of desktop applications.

The developer wishes to partner with an existing entity to significantly accelerate the process of marketing these tools and is willing to work within the entity for a contracted period, seeking a salary plus royalties. An annual salary for one year is included in the sale price with the only additional costs being royalty payments, to be negotiated.

Asking Price: $500,000.
