Business for Sale Description

Tourism Services Business for Sale Auckland

A brilliant opportunity to ride this business back to the top. A proven performer that confronted the pandemic, aggressively cut operating costs and re-shaped itself to operate profitably. It provides support services for tourism and has taken advantage of any opportunities that have been evident in the domestic travel sector. Importantly it is equipped to quickly and efficiently scale up as things open up to reap the growth benefits that will become available.

The business has a long history and a valuable reputation with strong customer loyalty and significant forward-contracted revenue. The current owner spends less than five hours per week on average as the business is operated by an experienced, competent team. The new owner will be a good organiser, a team motivator, and a decisive strategist who can identify and exploit growth opportunities. The business can be run from one of three existing branch locations or from a home office.
