Dominant Performer in Growth Category

This business supplies a range of compliance driven health and safety products required by New Zealand businesses in most categories. Demand is consistent and growing. A significant proportion of trade is underpinned by long established supply agreements with international suppliers. A significant proportion of sales has been and is forward contracted.

Sound, experienced management is in place and would be available to the new owner.

The business, currently operated from Auckland can be operated anywhere in New Zealand from a home office. Stock availability and access is organised so that the owner can manage logistics from the home office.

The business would be an efficient, strategic and valuable adjunct to an existing B2B operation. Already successful and delivering long-term growth in a growing marketplace it is an outstanding opportunity for a business customer-oriented sales executive looking to own a business and continue building this very successful and profitable enterprise.

EBITDA averaged over three years exceeds $776,000.
