Workplace Compliance Business 20+% Growth FY 2024

Work from Home in Workplace Compliance Business Showing Good Growth

The business operates nationally delivering a high-demand service. 2024 sales increased over 2023 by more than 20%. Legislation underscores compliance obligations and this business provides a solution which is invaluable across a wide range of business categories. It can be operated from a home office anywhere in New Zealand. There are very good growth prospects both organically and through the establishment of franchisees additional to those already operating. There's a well-established base of customer companies and organisations with a good risk spread.

The new owner will be well organised, energetic and good with people. If you're in sales or the trades and know how to manage things, this is a great opportunity to become a business owner in a dynamic category.

The vendor will provide a very good level of transitional assistance.
