Import and Distribution, Highly Profitable and Potentially Relocatable

Established in 2018, this thriving business started with a narrow range of products for a niche sector in the leisure market. Since then it has expanded its range with a selection of quality products and now holds a significant and growing market share.

Predominantly B2B, they boast a growing client base, good profit margins and relatively low overheads. Having established themselves as a reliable and competitive distributor, there are many more opportunities to expand their product range and increase their profit potential.

This is a simple business to run with no specialist skills required. The current owner works around 20 hours per week and has no operational involvement in the business. There is a genuine reason for sale and staff have indicated that they wish to remain with the business.

Currently located in Tauranga, this business could be run from anywhere as the only retail component is via their websites.

Whether you're an experienced entrepreneur or a first-time business owner, this business can provide a pathway to financial success.
