

Engineering Business for Sale Waikato

Waikato Engineering Business

Waikato Engineering Business

This successful engineering business has operated with the current owner for nearly 20 years and services many of Waikatos blue chip clients.

Providing design, specialised parts manufacturing and on-site services it has a diversified income stream.

The key attributes are:

Undertaking design and fabrication in mild steel, stainless steel and Aluminum of a variety of items in the Dairy, Transport and other industries.

It has a solid reputation with its customers and prides itself on its accuracy and quality.

The business operates out of tidy and well setup premises.

The equipment is impressive and well maintained.

The business has capacity for growth to a motivated purchaser and the current owner is happy to provide a solid transition and support post sale if required.

Earnings to 1 working owner (before interest, tax, depreciation) was approx. $500k in 2023.

The business operates very efficiently with a relatively small team encompassing both staff and contractors.

This business would be the ideal step up to owning a business for a qualified tradesman/couple or a great acquisition for an existing business owner.
