Niche & Profitable Engineering Business with No Staff!

Whether you're an engineer eager to own a business, or seeking a lucrative add-on to an existing company, this is the opportunity you've been searching for!

Founded in 2018, this business specialises in sought-after water jet cutting services. The niche operation has translated into minimal competition, enhancing the business's market share.

Currently, the business is located in a major South Auckland suburb with region-wide reach. However, it may need to be relocated, providing an exciting opportunity for a new owner to shape the future of this highly regarded company.

Business Highlights:

- Lucrative industry
- Reputation for quality
- High gross profit margin
- Strong word-of-mouth referrals
- Market-leading product technology
- Room for major growth and expansion
- Well-maintained Waterjet - Book value is over $150,000
- Extensive clientele, big-name customers

The best part? The established & simple operation means that the business is currently entirely owner-operated with no staff. This structure is rare & highly attractive, allowing entrepreneurs to reap the rewards of ownership firsthand. However, there is of course flexibility in how the business may be operated under fresh leadership.

No specialised knowledge is required to own & operate the business. The technology is easily learned, and the current owner is happy to provide training and ongoing support & assistance, facilitating a smooth handover that instills confidence.

This is a golden opportunity well-suited to a diverse range of buyers who will recognise the immense potential this venture carries.

Don't miss out on the chance to lead this impressive business through its next chapter. Enquire now!
