Engineering Service with Custom Designed Offerings

Are you seeking a well-established business in the Bay of Plenty region? This thriving general and custom engineering company specialises in custom trailer manufacturing, heavy transport engineering, and general fabrication. With over a decade of success and steady growth, it's a trusted name in the industry.

A significant contract with a major government agency is in place, offering huge potential for ongoing revenue for the next several years. This presents an exceptional opportunity for an engineering professional or a business looking to expand its market presence.

The current team includes skilled fabricators, an apprentice, and office support staff, ensuring a smooth transition. The business operates from a well-equipped 500 sqm workshop, complete with dedicated office space and a large outdoor yard, offering ample room for growth.

With a proven track record and a steady stream of work, including forward orders, the business is well-positioned for continued success. Marketing efforts have been modest, presenting an exciting opportunity for a new owner to expand into additional sectors or regions. Current marketing strategies include online advertising and annual expo appearances, but there is significant potential for growth.

If you're ready to take on a profitable business with long-term contracts and a loyal client base, this could be the perfect fit for you.
