

Industrial Manufacturing Business for Sale Taranaki

AWARD WINNER

MANUFACTURING AND ENGINEERING PRODUCTION BUSINESS

Introducing a well-established, 30-year-old, manufacturing business with all the hallmarks of historical success including the likes of not only producing its own range of fabricated metal products marketed nationally but it also provides its customers with high-quality, cost-effective production options. The team of highly innovative, experienced and skilled, engineering staff etc who have historically offered its other business customers professional assistance and advice when it comes to not only being able to successfully help those customers identify and develop the customer's own in-house efficiencies from concept through to production, including the likes of assembly efficiencies and cost savings across their range of engineering processes, but also being able to assist those customers where required, with professional advice on marketing and selling of their products.

A recognised award winner at N.Z. National Fielday Events, the business has a history of providing customised products to a range of blue-chip companies such as the likes of Fonterra, Farmlands, Waste Management etc. and provides customers with access to already established retail channels and knowledgeable sales staff who can, where required, provide help to its customers in marketing of their customers' products through many of the large farming and contracting retailers throughout New Zealand.
