Profitable Web Design & Hosting Business with Recurring Revenue - Established Client Base & Growth Potential

Web Intelligence is a web design and hosting business with a strong client base and recurring revenue. We provide custom website development, maintenance, and hosting solutions, primarily serving small to medium-sized businesses. The market for web services continues to grow, offering expansion opportunities in SEO, e-commerce, and digital marketing. The business benefits from reliable monthly income through hosting subscriptions, making it an attractive investment. Operations are streamlined with established workflows, automation, and a loyal customer base. A new owner can scale by expanding service offerings or increasing marketing efforts. This is a turnkey opportunity for an entrepreneur or an existing agency looking to acquire a profitable, well-established web business.

Business Resources

Web Intelligence operates remotely with minimal overhead. The business uses WHM/cPanel for hosting management, Joomla and WordPress for website development, and automated billing systems for recurring revenue. No physical premises are required, and operations can be run from anywhere. The business is currently owner-operated. Assistance with transition and handover can be provided to ensure a smooth transfer. This is a low-maintenance, scalable business with well-established systems.
