Successful Polishing Business with Freehold Option. Metal Polishing, sandblasting and lacquering business.

With reluctant retirement on the horizon, a fantastic opportunity is available to purchase this well-established metal polishing, sandblasting and lacquering business with over 50 years of successful trading and a wealth of goodwill.

The business operates from a well-equipped, fit for purpose workshop building which includes office space, a mezzanine smoko room and storage, and multi room workshop. The sale includes all essential tools, equipment and materials, and will include a generous training and handover period ensuring a smooth transition for the new owner.

The facility's central location allows for efficient service attracting customers across a broad geographic area.

This profitable business is a credit to the owners who excel in genuine customer service, and have built a strong reputation during many years of trading, by producing quality work and service across the automotive, marine, household, and commercial sectors, resulting in a consistent pipeline of interesting projects and repeat clients.

The business is also an exciting option for someone without previous experience who is looking to secure their future in business ownership as the skills required are transferable, offering a short time frame to learn and operate, and every day can bring interesting and varying products, along with the very capable team of long term skilled staff who are in place, offering the new owner flexibility in managing the business.
