

Manufacturing Business for Sale Queenstown

Fully Managed, $6M EBITDA, South Island

Looking for a market-dominating, system-driven manufacturing business with a track record of success and genuine scalability? This rare opportunity delivers a powerful combination of reputation, performance, and independence, a platform that's ready to grow.

Established over 30 years ago, this business has evolved into a regional leader in its sector. It operates across multiple strategically chosen sites, servicing a broad customer base across residential, commercial, and high-end construction markets. Purpose-designed facilities and proprietary management systems drive benchmark-setting efficiency, delivering consistent output, strong margins, and operational resilience.

Built on a foundation of innovation and continuous improvement, the business benefits from a loyal, long-serving team, engineered factory workflows, and in-house developed software that governs everything from enquiry to invoicing. It's no surprise that the business has significantly outperformed industry norms, both operationally and financially, year after year.

Key Strengths:

1. Over 30 years of established market presence and brand trust
2. Broad regional footprint with multiple operational and sales locations
3. Proven performance in both volume and specialist manufacturing projects
4. Exclusive use of highly regarded, compliant product systems
5. In-house software and factory innovations streamline production and cost control
6. Skilled and stable workforce with low turnover and specialist expertise
7. High barriers to entry and competitive advantages difficult to replicate
8. Operational performance well above industry benchmarks
9. Diversified customer base ensuring stability through market cycles
10. Significant growth potential into new regions with scalable infrastructure

The business is fully managed day-to-day by a capable and experienced general manager. The current owner has stepped back from operations and plays only a strategic/governance role in the business. This makes the opportunity ideally suited to an investor, corporate acquirer, or business leader seeking a high-quality platform that can grow without owner dependency.

With strong financials, deeply embedded operational systems, and a well-established brand presence in multiple growth markets, this is a business designed for scale. Whether you're looking to expand an existing portfolio or step into a high-performing standalone enterprise, this opportunity offers immediate value and long-term upside. Enquire now to find out more about this exciting and strategic opportunity.
