

Craft Juice and Tea Shop Business for Sale Cambridge

Own a thriving health-focused juice & tea shop in Cambridge: loyal customers, growth potential, flexible model—step in today!

Looking for a new venture in Cambridge, Waikato? This is a rare chance to purchase a well-established craft juice and tea shop with a strong focus on health and wellbeing. It is positioned as a community favourite for customers seeking nutritious, high-quality products.

The business currently specialises in cold-pressed juices, juice cleanses, tonics, fermented probiotic drinks, raw slices and smoothies, with clear potential to expand into a wider range of takeaway lunchtime meals. The retail offering includes an extensive selection of loose-leaf and bagged teas, teaware, plus fermentation starter cultures and kits, alongside a refillery for ecostore's personal care and household cleaning products.

With consumer demand growing for health-conscious and sustainable living options, this business offers the opportunity to provide an essential local service while positively influencing customers' lifestyles. The model is flexible and designed to allow further growth, making it ideal for an owner keen to expand product lines, services, or online sales. If you are ready to step into a thriving, health-focused business with strong values and loyal customers, get in touch today to find out more.

Business Resources

The business is currently operated by a single hands-on owner with some part-time support, and its simple kitchen setup means no formal hospitality training is required, making it ideal for a working owner-operator. It enjoys an excellent high-visibility location with strong foot traffic and ample customer parking. A straightforward food safety system, intellectual property, long term lease, along with an established website and active social media channels, are all included in the sale, providing a solid platform for continued growth.
