Automotive Accessories Business - Auckland

Here is an opportunity to acquire a well-established Auckland business in the automotive accessories sector at a price point that is likely to attract serious attention.

The business supplies a range of aftermarket products and also provides value-added installation services, giving customers the convenience of a one-stop-shop if they desire. As a result, income is generated from both product sales and labour. Typical buyers include vehicle fleet managers, dealerships, recreational and general public.

With a long trading history of 20 years, the business has built repeat business, referral work and established supplier relationships that support ongoing performance. Customers value the combination of product knowledge, service and installation capability this well-regarded business provides.

The model is lean, proven and easy to manage. It is not highly technical and would suit an owner-operator, working couple or industry buyer looking for an established platform with stock, systems and upside already in place.

There is clear room for further growth through stronger online sales, broader customer reach and expanded supply relationships. The potential market for this business is untapped and huge.

2025 EBPITD: $143,000

2026 forecast: expected to track similar to 2025 awaiting final accounts

Asking Price: $200,000 plus stock at valuation circa $95,000

At this level, buyers are acquiring an established business with earnings, stock and growth potential at an entry point that is hard to ignore.
