Available for the first time, Kitchen Studio Blenheim offers a design-led franchise opportunity backed by national support & trusted brand recognition.

Own a proven, design-led kitchen franchise with national support, strong brand recognition, exclusive territories, and full training for success. Available for the first time, Kitchen Studio Blenheim creates a rare opportunity to establish a locally owned showroom with the backing of New Zealand's most recognised and trusted kitchen brand.

Kitchen Studio Blenheim is a newly released franchise territory, creating an exciting opportunity for a motivated owner-operator, couple or business partnership to build a design-led business in the Marlborough region.

This is a greenfield franchise opportunity. There is currently no physical Kitchen Studio showroom presence in Blenheim and no active local marketing in the territory. Despite this, Kitchen Studio has still generated sales from the region, indicating existing demand for a trusted, design-led kitchen solution and an opportunity for the right local operator to develop the market further.

Kitchen Studio has more than 40 years in business and has designed and installed over 50,000 kitchens across New Zealand. The brand is showroom-based, full-service and focused on helping customers create one of the most important spaces in their home.

A Kitchen Studio franchise is not simply a retail kitchen business. Franchisees guide customers through a significant and often emotional home investment, from early ideas and design consultation through to product selection, installation and project completion.

This opportunity will suit someone who enjoys working with people, building relationships and leading a high-quality customer experience. You may have experience or interest in design, interiors, sales, customer relationships, project coordination, operations or business ownership. You do not need to be a kitchen designer yourself, but you do need to be customer-focused, commercially minded and willing to lead from the front.

The model may also suit couples or business partners with complementary skills. One person may focus on sales, client engagement and local networking, while the other supports operations, delivery, design coordination or business administration.

As a Kitchen Studio franchisee, you are not starting alone. Franchisees benefit from the strength of an established national brand, approved supplier relationships, operational systems, training, business mentoring, national marketing support and a collaborative franchisee network.

Kitchen Studio also provides customers with confidence through its Total Trust guarantees, including deposit protection and a 10-year guarantee on installed kitchens. This helps franchisees build trust in a category where customers are looking for quality, reassurance and expert guidance.

For Blenheim and the wider Marlborough region, the opportunity is to establish a strong local showroom presence, build referral relationships, increase brand visibility and become the local Kitchen

Studio operator for homeowners looking for premium kitchen design and installation support.

This is not a passive investment. It is best suited to a hands-on operator who wants to be visible in the local market, develop local relationships, uphold a trusted national brand and build a meaningful business in a category with strong lifestyle, emotional and practical appeal.

New Kitchen Studio territories do not become available often, and Blenheim is being made available for the first time. For the right person, this is a chance to secure a defined territory and build a local business with the backing of a proven national franchise network.
