

Diesel Workshop Business for Sale Auckland

Diesel Workshop with Agency Income

Well-established diesel mechanical workshop servicing agricultural machinery, commercial fleets, transport operators and industrial customers throughout a major South Auckland growth region.

This business combines workshop income with valuable agency relationships that generate recurring revenue and regular customer traffic. In addition to diesel servicing and repairs, the operation benefits from established lubricant distribution and industrial gas supply activities, creating multiple income streams and reducing reliance on workshop labour alone. Key features include:

- * Established diesel mechanical workshop
- * Diverse customer base across agriculture, transport and industry
- * Recurring income from agency and distribution activities
- * Strong local reputation and repeat customer base
- * Fully equipped workshop with industrial vehicle access
- * Additional income from on-site sublease arrangements
- * Improving profitability and operational efficiency
- * Scope to expand fleet servicing contracts
- * Opportunity to introduce mobile diesel servicing
- * Potential to increase digital marketing and trading hours

Located within a strategic industrial precinct servicing one of New Zealand's key agricultural production regions, the business enjoys strong access to commercial, rural and industrial customers.

Ideal for an owner-operator diesel mechanic, workshop manager seeking business ownership, or an existing automotive or transport services operator looking to expand through acquisition.

Businesses with diversified income streams, established supplier relationships and proven market presence are rarely available in this sector.
