

Specialist Engineering Business for Sale Wellington

Specialist Engineering Business with Untapped Upside

A rare opportunity to acquire a well-established engineering and fabrication business with a reputation for quality workmanship, specialist capability, and practical problem-solving. The business delivers a broad range of custom fabrication, maintenance, stainless steel, architectural, and CNClaser-cutting work for commercial, trade, industrial, and private clients.

Significant investment in modern equipment and technology has positioned the business as a go-to provider for detailed and specialist work that many competitors cannot undertake. A skilled team, diverse customer base, and stable revenue provide a strong platform for future growth.

Highlights:

- * Revenue of approximately $1.5M
- * Experienced and capable team in place
- * Advanced CNClaser-cutting capability
- * Diverse customer base and revenue streams
- * Strong reputation and repeat business
- * Minimal marketing undertaken
- * Significant growth potential through sales and promotion
- * Comprehensive handover available

This is an ideal opportunity for an owner-operator or industry participant looking to take control of a capable business with modern equipment, strong foundations, and clear upside.
