Engineering Fabrication - Taranaki

This profitable, well-established business operating in the Taranaki region is now available, generating average owner's earnings of approximately $550,000.

The company provides a broad range of design, fabrication, and installation services to industrial clients across multiple sectors. It is known for delivering high-quality, reliable engineering solutions supported by strong in-house capability and an experienced, trade-qualified team.

Revenue is supported by a stable base of repeat work and ongoing client relationships, with a strong reputation for capability and consistent delivery within its core markets.

The business operates from well-located premises and is supported by a lean management structure, led by an experienced owner-operator who is willing to remain post-sale to assist with transition.

This opportunity would suit an existing industry operator seeking expansion, a strategic buyer looking to add capability and scale, or a qualified engineer looking to acquire and operate a well-established engineering business.
