

Screen & Digital Printing Business for Sale Hamilton

Long established | Turn-key operation | Loyal customer base

Long-established screen and digital printing business in Hamilton, initially founded in London in 2005 and relocated to New Zealand in 2017. This business boasts a prime location with high visibility and ample parking. The workshop features a street-facing showroom, high stud, mezzanine floor, and roller door access. As the premises are not included in the sale, the new owner will have the flexibility to negotiate a new lease or relocate the business to suit their own requirements.

The business includes all necessary equipment operating on single-phase power, such as an Atma 600 HE semi-auto flatbed screen printer, 200-litre air compressor, and 4-colour 4-station carousel. Additionally, there are thousands of licensed screen prints, including popular brands like Ford Motor Company and Liquid Blue.

This operation can be run from a 4-car garage and a large spare room, and there's potential to link with print on demand companies like Printful and Printify. The loyal customer base is currently built through word of mouth, website, and foot traffic. There's significant growth potential with marketing via social media platforms.

The current owner has reached retirement age and is willing to assist with the transition. Digital printing equipment is also available upon request.
