Freehold Holiday Park in Rotorua

Rotorua Family Holiday Park presents an outstanding opportunity to acquire a well-established Freehold Going Concern holiday park in one of New Zealand's most recognised tourism destinations.

Set on substantial freehold land in the peaceful lakeside community of Ngongotahā, this successful accommodation business enjoys a unique point of difference—its location in Rotorua's sought-after sulphur-free zone. Guests appreciate the clean, fresh environment while remaining just 10 to 15 minutes from Rotorua's CBD and the region's iconic visitor attractions.

One of this property's greatest strengths is its diversified accommodation offering. Combining the proven appeal of a traditional holiday park with established long-term accommodation, the business generates income from multiple market segments rather than relying solely on seasonal tourism. Short-stay holidaymakers are catered for through powered sites, cabins and visitor accommodation, while permanent residents provide a stable year-round revenue base that helps smooth seasonal fluctuations and supports consistent cash flow. This balanced business model offers purchasers both the resilience of recurring income and the upside of Rotorua's strong domestic and international visitor market, creating an attractive investment with multiple avenues for future growth.

With a diverse range of accommodation options, excellent guest facilities and multiple income streams, the business appeals to families, domestic travellers, international visitors, fishing enthusiasts, campervan travellers and tour groups. The park has built a strong reputation for quality accommodation, friendly service and a relaxing atmosphere, resulting in repeat business and consistently positive guest reviews.
