New Equipment Included! Exclusive Regional Territories - Established Workwear & Apparel Branding Business

Supply + Brand is an established New Zealand workwear and apparel branding business supplying custom uniforms, promotional clothing and branded garments to businesses, trades and organisations.

The Wellington opportunity gives the buyer exclusive rights to operate Supply + Brand across the region, with access to the existing brand, website, supplier network, systems, equipment, training and ongoing support.

The business can be run from home or a small commercial space with relatively low overheads, making it an accessible entry into the growing branded apparel market. No previous printing experience is required, and the model is designed to give an owner everything needed to build a strong local customer base under an established national brand.

Business Resources

Includes access to the Supply + Brand name, brand assets, website infrastructure, proven operating systems, supplier network, pricing structure and established processes. The territory package also includes the core equipment required for garment branding, along with hands-on training covering artwork preparation, ordering, production, customer quoting and day-to-day operations. No staff are required initially, with the business designed to be owner-operated and scalable as demand grows.
