

Food Stall for Sale Auckland

The business has been successfully operated over multiple seasons and has developed a strong reputation for delivering high-quality, authentic French products, fast service, and a professional event setup. The concept is simple, profitable, and easy to scale, making it suitable for an owner-operator, couple, investor, or hospitality group looking to expand into the mobile food and events sector.

A major strength of the business is its established presence within the New Zealand event industry, including repeat participation in festivals and seasonal events. This gives the new owner immediate access to an operating business model with proven revenue potential.

The sale includes not only the physical truck and equipment, but also the operational know-how, menu structure, suppliers, Food Control Plan up to date, contacts and relationship with festivals organisers and vendors managers.

This is an ideal opportunity to acquire a ready-to-trade hospitality business with immediate earning potential from day one.
