Specialist Automotive Business - Global Reach

A rare opportunity to acquire an established specialist automotive business operating in the growing CVT transmission and parts market.

CVT combine specialist CVT transmission remanufacturing with an extensive parts operation, supplying automotive workshops and customers throughout New Zealand and internationally.

With more than 1,200 different parts held in stock and over 180 CVT transmission types available, the business has developed a strong specialist position backed by decades of automotive industry knowledge.

CVT provides specialist CVT transmission diagnostics, servicing and remanufacturing, supported by an extensive range of transmissions and specialist parts. The business works with automotive workshops and industry customers throughout New Zealand, providing access to parts, technical knowledge and repair solutions that can otherwise be difficult to source through traditional automotive supply channels.

Business Highlights:

- Established profitable specialist automotive operation
- More than 1,200 different CVT parts held in stock
- Over 180 CVT transmission types available
- Specialist transmission remanufacturing capability
- Experienced staff and established operating infrastructure
- Extensive customer and industry relationships
- Potential for the business to be relocated

Centrally positioned in a purpose-built workshop within the North Island, providing practical access to major centres including Hamilton, Tauranga, Auckland. The business represents an opportunity for an automotive industry operator, trade purchaser or investor to acquire a specialised operation with an established customer base, international distribution channels and significant technical capability.
