Turnkey E-Commerce Brand: Unique Consumer Product, Supplier Secured, Shopify Store Built and Ready to Launch in New Zealand

A ready-to-launch e-commerce business offering a distinctive consumer product with strong potential in the New Zealand market. The hard work of developing the concept has already been completed, making this an ideal opportunity for someone looking to acquire a business and take it straight to market.

The sale includes a professionally developed brand, completed Shopify website, domain, product samples, established supplier relationship, product specifications, professional product and lifestyle imagery, and basic existing marketing assets.

The business is pre-launch and has not yet commenced trading, giving a new owner a clean slate to shape the launch and growth strategy. The current owner is selling to focus on other business interests. A straightforward, low-overhead opportunity with much of the initial setup already completed.

Business Resources

The sale includes the complete Shopify website, domain, brand and logo assets, product samples, established supplier relationship and sourcing information, product specifications, professional product and lifestyle imagery, and existing marketing materials. No staff or premises are required, and the business can be operated remotely with low overheads. The current owner will provide a full handover, including supplier introductions and guidance on the existing setup and launch preparation.
