Lifestyle Plumbing Business - 16 Hours a Week - EBIPTDA $146,000

This is a true lifestyle plumbing business. It lets you work on average sixteen hours a week, bundled into a couple of days that suit you, while still returning a full-time income. That is how the current owner has run it for several years, with easily enough work to sustain him at that level the whole time.

If you are looking to grow the business, there is also the option to turn the marketing back on and easily fill a forty-hour week. The business has done this in the past and successfully tested it again recently.

This niche Auckland business sells, installs and services plumbing-related appliances, and has done so for more than twenty years. The work arrives on its own, through a website that ranks strongly for the searches a customer needing a service or a replacement actually runs, and through the service label on roughly 15,000 of them in Auckland homes.

It needs a registered plumber. Most of the work is plumbing, an associated tradesperson licence covers the electrical side, and the current owner will train you through the handover.

- EBIPTDA of ~$146,000
- Revenue of ~$261,000
- Direct purchasing as an authorised service agent under agreements with three brands
- 4.9 star Google rating, built without chasing reviews
- Roughly 15,000 units in the field carrying the business's own service label
- A database of 8,000 to 10,000 past and current customers, commercial and domestic, that has never been marketed to
- Home-based, with no premises, no lease and no staff
- Commercial work the current owner has deliberately left alone

The asking price is $195,000, incl $15,000 of plant & $6,000 of stock.
