- Water treatment and filtration, including UV systems, for residential, commercial and industrial customers

- Water reticulation and irrigation for residential, commercial and industrial customers

- Rainwater harvesting

- Sales and service of outdoor power equipment, with a qualified mechanic on site

The Team

Two working owners, supported by five competent and experienced staff across all areas of the business.

Who this business would suit

This business suits a buyer with a practical, technical background: a plumber, pump or irrigation technician, electrician, rural contractor or engineer looking to run their own operation. It would also be a strong bolt-on for an existing plumbing, drilling, irrigation, farm machinery or rural service business wanting to expand its offering and customer base.

The franchise system provides established support, so a hands-on operator can step in with confidence and knowing that the owners will stay on and train them for a duration.
